National Maritime Museum will guide you to the world of the ocean, the gateway to our prosperous future.

National Maritime Museum holds large collections, encompassing everything about maritime issues under the theme of My Ocean, Our Future. We hope you learn and enjoy the ocean, a pool of resources for mankind and see maritime visions at National Maritime Museum through hands-on experiences.

Exploring maritime history

National Maritime Museum seeks to present people with a maritime vision in a comprehensive and systematic manner through collections, research and exhibition of maritime relics and artifacts while raising awareness on maritime issues.

Building a strong maritime country

National Maritime Museum provides you with an opportunity to learn more about the oceans and maritime issues through direct experience. We also play a key role in coordinating research outcomes shared among relevant organizations within the maritime community along with research and education on maritime culture and environment.

Presenting marine values.

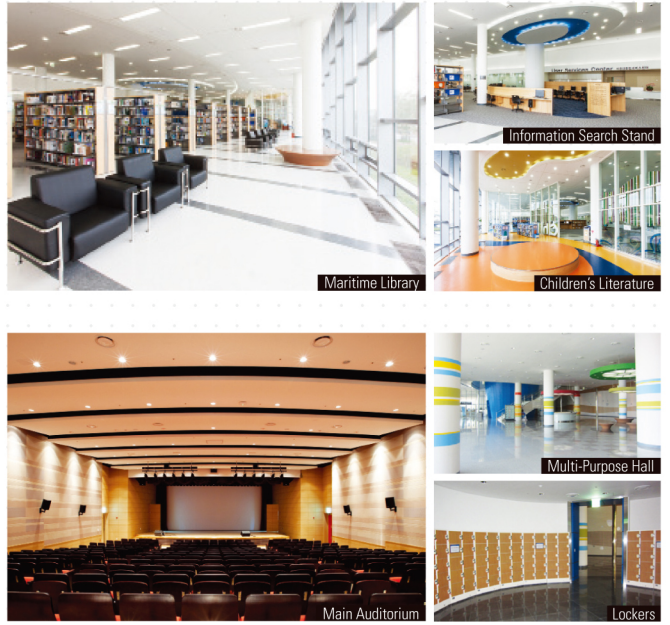

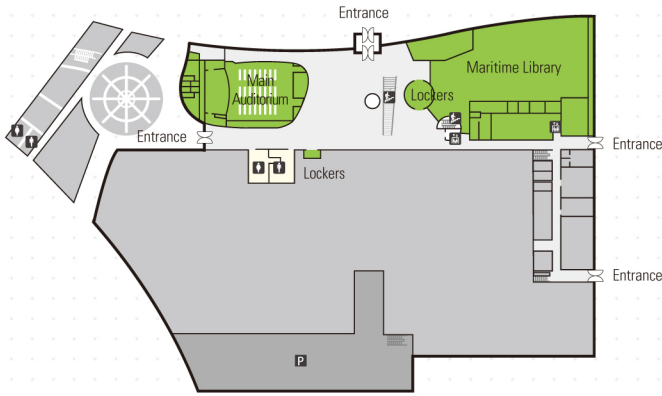

National Maritime Museum is a comprehensive maritime museum that offers an extensive amount of information, encompassing a full range of maritime issues, including maritime culture, maritime industry, maritime science, maritime territory and maritime life under the theme of 'My Ocean, Our Future.'

National Maritime Museum

1F

Opening the ocean

On the first floor, we have a large multi-purpose hall with the capacity to accommodate a variety of theme exhibitions and the main auditorium designed for various performances and seminars. In the Maritime Library, you can find marine books and journals on a wide range of topics along with a children's archive designated for children.

Learning the ocean

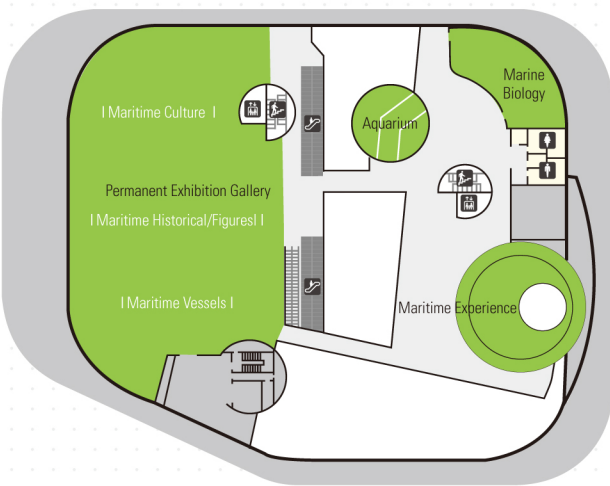

In the Children's Museum, you can see performances for kids along with a variety of experience-based activities under the theme of the ocean and the environment. You can easily access to several convenient facilities for family visitors, including a breast feeding room and picnic room. Don't forget to visit exhibition.

Meeting the ocean

You can learn and feel the history and culture of the ocean that has existed together with humans through various marine relics and artifacts. You can also enjoy a close-up view and feel of marine life that is hard to experience in everyday life by touching marine organisms in the aquarium and marine life hall.

4F

Sailing to the ocean

On the fourth floor, you can visit the Marine Industry Hall that explains the economic potential and productivity of the ocean, the Marine Science Hall for the sustainable development, and the Marine Territory Hall that illustrates the future potential and development of the ocean. You can also experience the maritime world in a very realistic manner at the 4D Theater.
